Wine of the Week

June 11th, 2021

JI's wine columnist Yitz Applbaum reviews the Covenant BLUE C VIOGNIER 2020:

"With the reopening of global travel, I have embarked on a three-week trek to the sweltering Middle East. To cool down, I brought along a bottle I have been eyeing for quite some time.

"The Covenant BLUE C Viognier is untamed. The wine opens by pummeling your palate with a barrage of citrus and grapefruit. The mid-palate has hints of pear, and the finish is subdued. This wine is barrel fermented which gives it a velvety, round feel on the tongue. The texture makes you want to leave the wine sitting there a little while longer than usual so be careful not to damage your tastebuds. Enjoy this wine with Middle Eastern chicken fricassee and plan to have at least two bottles of it nearby."
